A BRAVE (?) GENERAL.

Gen. S. W. Crawford, in writing to the Philadelphia Times, says he is ready to tramp out the pension system as the English did the mutiny—lashed to the muzzles of British cannons—and the cattle-plague. "Indicate what's to be done, and I am ready."

A gentleman, writing from Madison, Wisconsin, pays his respects to the gallant (?) General in a way that will not be relished by this "tramping out" officer.

"Gen. Crawford received as much pay in one year as the soldier he would 'tramp out,' kill at the muzzle of the cannon, who carried his musket and often 100 rounds, his knapsack and rations, would in 21 years."

"This great General had more style while a division commander than King William at the head of the Prussian army; while to enter his tent was more trouble than to enter the harem of the Sultan of Turkey."

"The great query is, why the 'Doctor' has not appeared at the National Encampment of the G. A. R., and blown from the cannon's mouth the many thousands who resolved for the pension system? Or why he did not appear before the Invalid Pension Committee of 50th and 51st Congresses, take a seat, and 'tramp it out' like the English did the cattle plague? Or why did he not take a seat in the National Democratic and Republican conventions and tell those delegates who resolved, 'We are in favor of liberal pensions,' that he would 'tramp it out' as the English did the mutiny and cattle plague? Why did he not attend the Ohio, Iowa, and Nebraska conventions this summer, and tell the delegates he was going to blow the pensioners from this mundane sphere as the English did the mutineers?"

"This great man of the closing decade of the 19th century, who would 'tramp out' pensioners receiving from $2 to $24, name appears on the Army Register, page 280, as a Colonel, retired as a Brigadier-General, receiving $343.75 each month. Would it not be well to tramp out a few Major and Brigadier-Generals like 'Doctor' Crawford, before shooting the private soldier receiving $2 every time this world revolves 365 times for Gen. Crawford? "This terrible genius who says, 'I am ready' to practice on the Union soldier what the civilized world condemned in the English punishment of the Indian mutineers, himself receiving a pension of $4,125 every time this globe revolves 365 times for him, enabling this fell destroyer of one-half a million private soldiers to live part of the time at a watering place in Europe. He does not indicate whether he will commence on Gen. Rosecrans, Sickles, or Sigel, or it may be he will 'tramp out' Mrs. Grant or Garfield, or Logan; or it may be this valiant luminary will order the execution of the widows of the Revolution, or perhaps the few left of the War of 1812, and then before breakfast apply 'cattle plague' remedy to the Mexican War veterans, and then finish his holocaust on the privates of the War of 1861."

"The 'Doctor' had better ask that his name be taken from the pension roll with the pay of a Brigadier-General, before he starts on the great reform of 'tramping out.'"

Industrial Proposition.

A well known business man residing within a few miles of Shenandoah proposes establishing a factory in town that will give employment to over two hundred men, women, boys and girls. He says he will supply one-third of a cash capital of $6,000 if the town people will supply the balance. Parties who may wish to investigate the matter with a view to establishing the plant can secure additional information upon application at the HERALD office.

GLEANINGS BY THE LOCAL CORPS OF REPORTERS.

WHAT THE SCRIBES SEE AND HEAR

An Old Local Real Estate Case Decided by the Court at Pottsville—Francy Awarded the Valerius Property.

The property on the east side of North Jardin street, south of Coal, and adjoining the residence of James J. Francy, was the subject of a decision by Judge Green at Pottsville yesterday. The property has been in dispute between Mr. Francy and Michael Valerius and wife for a long time. It was sold at a Sheriff's sale and the party who bid it in turned it over to Francy. Valerius and his wife then disputed the sale, claiming that there was collusion between the bidder and Francy, and they have continued to hold possession. The decision rendered yesterday declares that Francy is entitled to the property. It is as follows: "This is a proceeding under Act 18, May, 1871, to obtain possession of a certain property, purchased at Sheriff's sale by the plaintiff and sold as the property of Valerius and wife, who are in possession. He resists the delivery of possession and has filed an action attacking the validity of the Sheriff's sale on the ground of fraudulent collusion on the part of the purchaser. Can he avail himself of such a defense in this proceeding? Whatever merit there may be in the allegations of fraud, it is clear to my mind they can not be inquired into in the present proceeding."

"The act of Assembly, Sec. 5, says that the court has inquired whether the petitioner has become the purchaser of the real estate, and says that a sheriff's or coroner's deed for the same, duly acknowledged and certified, shall be full and conclusive evidence of that fact, before such court or judge. There is no provision made in this proceeding for the trial of such an issue as is raised by the defendants in the affidavit of the wife."

"The court is requested to forbear giving judgment only in the event that the parties in possession do not claim under the defendants in the judgment, or that they claim by title from the defendant prior to the rendition of the judgment, and are therefore not included in the excepted cases. Due proof of notice to the suit having been made, all the requisites of the act of Assembly have been complied with, and the possession of said real estate is awarded to the petitioner at the cost of the defendants."

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at C. H. Hagenbuch's drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

Stationary packages, 5 and 10 cents each, at Max Reese's.

A New Society.

A society to be known as St. George's Lithuanian Catholic Beneficial Society of Shenandoah, Pa., has been organized and S. G. M. Holloper, Esq., has been authorized to apply for a charter for the same. The objects of the society are social, educational and beneficial purposes to its members from funds collected. The application for the charter will be made on December 21st, next.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Comments on Events in Town and Other Places.

Hazleton has not yet received its charter. It seems that the Borough Council of the town is pestered by obstructionists as our own. One of the councilmen has protested to the Governor that the election notices was not published in all the newspapers of the town and asks that the charter be withheld for that reason. If the claims are bona fide Hazleton will remain a borough for four years more and Shenandoah may yet advance before that hunting, bustling, town.

The discovery that there are outstanding coupons which are marked paid on the School Board and borough records is not encouraging. It looks like bad management, or criminal intent, and it is hoped that the finance committee will be able to glean facts by the next meeting of council that will put matters right. Early in the 70's, when the borough was in the hands of an unscrupulous gang, coupons were paid several times over and no account was kept of the receipts and expenditures of the borough. It is hoped that this condition of affairs is not about to develop again. It was not until the Citizens' party took charge of the borough's affairs that the many leaks were stopped, but since that time that party has been so effectually bound hand and foot that efforts to stop leaks through its agency would be most difficult. In the 70's it was impossible to find out how the borough stood financially and the auditors were obliged to draw a line and make a new start. A worse condition of affairs was hard to find and the reform auditor had to work hard for their money.

The borough auditors are very important officials and a gigantic mistake was made by the citizens last spring when they failed to elect Mr. Champion, who was experienced in the business and whose services were invaluable in making researches. A good official should always be retained.

Council should show no partiality regarding the laying of pavements, even though it may step upon the toes of some of its members occasionally. While it is true that it is poor policy to pave on the outskirts and leave properties in the center of the town neglected, it is equally true that the councilmen are in a better position to enforce the paving ordinances after they first give attention to their own properties.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. H. Hagenbuch, Druggist.

THE RAMBLER!

A COLUMN OF PITHY AND INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

GLEANINGS WHILE RAMBLING

A String of Spicy and Interesting Paragraphs Based Upon the Doings of the Day—Queer People and Happenings.

The present lottery law is so framed that people who conduct entertainments cannot be too careful. An interesting case is now at issue at Birdsboro. The manager of a Kickapoo Indian show there sold ten-cent tickets of admission to his show and with the tickets were distributed a prize, or special tickets. After the performances those who held the special tickets were called before the platform and after signing a paper, which was an agreement to act as agent for the medicine, they received a bundle of medicine and a certain sum of money from $1 to $10, according to the length of time they acted as agent. The manager told the people the prizes ran from $1 to $100, but no one ever received more than $10. They signed the agreement supposing it to be a receipt, as they were not required to return any money for the medicine they received. The court thought it was a cunningly devised scheme and had in it some elements of chance, which is contrary to law. The manager was held for trial on a charge of violating the lottery law.

The Italian residents in Shenandoah and vicinity who have been in the habit of sending their savings to Banker Giacinto Epifanio, of Philadelphia, for safe keeping, are sorely distressed by information that he has disappeared with $50,000—all that was on deposit in his bank.

Already some of the newly painted letter boxes have been scratched and otherwise rudely marked. The work is supposed to be that of boys and a close watch is to be instituted for the offenders. Parents will do well to warn their children against the practice and also warn them against stuffing rubbish into the boxes, soiling the mail and making the addresses illegible. The local postal authorities are not disposed to take stern measures, in view of the severe penalty the United States Court imposes upon offenders brought before it, but the practices must be at a standstill and if the boys do not take warning they must stand the consequences.

A stylishly dressed young man stood at the Centre street crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad yesterday when the rail was falling in torrents and a heavy gale was blowing. A young lady approached and the d. d. y. m. tipped his hat gallantly, accompanying the act with a seductive smile. The lifted tile was held between the thumb and forefinger, the hand being a light one, the gale merrily wafted the headgear from the hand to the railroad track, just in time to have it crushed upon a rail by a passing coal train. The young man's smile wilted, for he was, indeed, in a very embarrassing position.

"It is singular," said Jeweler Yost the other day, that a spring confined and protected as in a watch should be seriously affected by the weather, but in the trade it is quite common to look for a run on main-springs at certain times of the year, and during August the call for them is heavier than during two ordinary months, presumably because there are generally thunderstorms and sudden changes during the month. It is not a question of the quality of the spring, some of the very best going to pieces under weather influence, and other quite ordinary ones out-living the watch."

A citizen stated recently that Shenandoah cannot be boomed because there is no room for new buildings. That may be true. But what is the matter with going skyward, old man? We could spare many of the old rockeries.

There were a few people in town yesterday who were laughing up their sleeves as they remarked, "I guess the electric railway work is not going on very fast in this kind of weather?" But never mind. It is said that "every cloud has a silver lining," and the grand laugh will come in when the road is in operation and the silver lining is transferred to the pockets of the stockholders.

LAKESIDE.

The Present and Future of the Resort.

The Knickerbocker Ice Company will cut and store the ice furnished by the lakes at Lakeside this winter. If the season proves as cold as predicted the harvest will be larger than it has been for years.

There are a large number of applicants for the Lakeside Hotel. The successful bidder will be required to furnish proof that he fully understands the hotel business, as no experimenting will be allowed next season.

The trotting park will be in good condition for early spring races. Negotiations are now under way for races in which some of the best trotters and pacers in the state will compete. The opening day will be a brilliant one, and will be fixed at a much earlier date than last season.

The management is well satisfied with the results of the season of 1891 and will declare a nice dividend at its annual meeting.

The grounds have already been secured for another grand elevated, to be held on August 15th, next. The prizes will be more numerous and valuable than the last.

An effort will be made to have Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show as one of the attractions next summer, after the return of the show from Europe.

Among the numerous great attractions for which the management is gunning are Paul Boynton's party and Paine's "Fall of Babylon."

George Cummings, of Philadelphia, at one time in charge of the Belmont Driving Park, and a brother-in-law of Raul Doble, the great horseman, visited Lakeside on Saturday. He was much pleased with the place and suggested a few minor changes for the improvement of the race course. He will be on hand on the opening day and will help make the park a success.

Alone on the Prairie.

The day was in that transitory state when twilight lingers in the lap of day and darkness struggles for the ascendancy. The sun hung in a great red ball of lurid flame between heaven and earth; there was a feeling of profound quiet which seemed to settle on all things animate and inanimate. The birds, the insects, the very trees and sprouting plants were for the moment hushed as if in expectancy of some unforeseen, some inexplicable something which seemed to pervade the very atmosphere. A bull from gurgled softly as he fell back into the limpid water. Suddenly over the brow of a distant hill, there appeared a solitary man, seated astride a great bay horse; he cast one long sweeping glance around him and then went back over the brow of the hill again. And that same night over seven hundred people were turned away unable to gain admission to the opera house where "She Couldn't Marry Three" was being played to the most delighted audience of the season.

The Storm.

Yesterday's storm did considerable damage throughout the county. Down through the Shenandoah valley many fences were blown down and other damage done.
